

1 EXERCISES

- I. 1) Has he called? he has loved, he has surpassed.
2) They have fought, they have drove, they have worked.
3) We have hastened, we have built, we have loved.
4) Have I loved? you have called, you have hastened.
5) He has carried, he has delighted, he has routed.

- II. 1) Laudāvistī, arāvistī, nārrāvistī.
2) Ōrnāvī, portāvī, liberāvī.
3) Saltāvērunt, cantāvērunt, natāvērunt.
4) Dōnāvimus, habitāvimus, mōnstrāvimus.

2 THE ROMANS AND THE SABINES

Romulus, the Roman, has built the beautiful town of Italy. He called the inhabitants of the town the Romans. The Romans were strong men and they greatly loved their native country. Often with their neighbors, the Sabines, they fought in defence of their native country and often surpassed in war with arms. The victory was once doubtful for a long time. For Sabines had great arms and they fought with long javelins with great boldness. But the Romans routed the Sabines and wounded many with arrows. That victory was dear to the Romans.