

1 REVIEW

1. Rule of Gender. — Nouns of the first declension are feminine unless they denote males.
Rule of Gender. — Nouns of the second declension ending in -um are neuter; most others are masculine.
2. Nauta, agricola, Galba, poēta, advena, incola, pīrāta.
3. The ending of the adjective is not always the same as that of the noun with which it agrees. The adjective must only agree with their nouns in gender, number, and case.
4. It is not correct because nauta is a masculine noun of the first declension and bona is a feminine adjective of the first declension. The correct adjective would be bonus.

2 EXERCISES

- I.
 - 1) Galba is strong.
 - 2) Galba is a farmer.
 - 3) My daughter is small.
 - 4) Is your cup large?
 - 5) Britain is an island of Europe.
 - 6) Vesta was a goddess of Rome.
 - 7) Galba's wagons are good and robust.
 - 8) The war is not pleasing.
 - 9) The wars are not pleasing.
 - 10) Stars were in the sky.
 - 11) Greece is a small land of Europe.
 - 12) I see small stars in the sky.
 - 13) We see small stars in the clear sky.
 - 14) The townsmen see Galba and the strong horses.
- II.
 - 1) Viae oppidī sunt longae.
 - 2) Viae Rōmae nōn erant lātae.
 - 3) Viae Britanniae sunt lātae et longae.
 - 4) Dōna nova sunt grāta.
 - 5) Inimīcī pīla longa portant.
 - 6) Es meus amīcus cārus.
 - 7) Pōculum erat tuum.